The Charlotte Museum of History Launches New Website

Thanks to a recent, extensive overhaul, the website for the Charlotte Museum of History allows internet visitors to view its multitudes of topics with just a few clicks. It features expanded and reorganized content; and it incorporates colors and graphics that support and enhance the museum's mission and brand. The new website serves a broad audience of museum-goers, professionals, and members of the general public interested in Charlotte's rich history.

With the new website, you can learn how to join the museum's email club, how to make a contribution, how to become a member, and much more. Through the website's online events calendar, users can easily coordinate their schedules for visits.

Visit the newly re-designed website at www.charlottemuseum.org. Search the site to find the museum's "secret" — and win a prize!
